

March 8, 2018, is International Women's Day and this year it is getting a lot of attention. Does anyone remember what went on last year? Or the prior 109 years it was celebrated? Thought not.

McDonalds is turning its Golden Arches upside down. Google is trading its logo to one highlighting 12 women artists and their stories, while also encouraging stories from other women—quite a platform.

Your employees are watching, listening and reading. It is time to be proactive. We have found that a combination of the traditional and non traditional approaches work best. Two examples are our firm's Equal Pay Audit Service and our Sexual Harassment Prevention Toolkit.

International Women's Day is a good time to examine workplace issues affecting women. We stand ready to help.

We are proud of the fact our law firm is over 50% women. Call 508-548-4888 or email us at questions@foleylawpractice.com
www.foleylawpractice.com